Finding notes on the diapason

Names for the guitar strings

The standard guitar has 6 strings.

Strings are named from the bottom up like this:

1st = E
2nd = B
3rd = G
4th = D
5th = A
6th = E

Diapason

Knowing already how the strings are called, we can now find the rest of the notes all over the diapason:
The numbers above represent the frets, which are the diapason's divisions.

Notice that the notes are written in the opposite direction of the chromatic scheme. This is because the chromatic scheme is drew based on how a piano is built, while guitars are built in the opposite way.
